

How Long Did You Experience Withdrawal Symptoms?

Posted by Tomim2B - 29 Jul 2009 07:28

-- deleted --

=====
=====

Re: How Long Did You Experience Withdrawal Symptoms?

Posted by TrYiNg - 29 Jul 2009 07:47

Hi. Welcome to the GUE family. ;D

I've experienced many withdrawal symptoms too. Moodiness, tense... It passes after a day or two. You can read about it in my thread over at the womens side (if you're willing to take the)

=====
=====

Re: How Long Did You Experience Withdrawal Symptoms?

Posted by bardichev - 29 Jul 2009 15:49

hi welcome aboard

with much hope for your continued hatzlazcha

for the first 30-40 days i was jumping out of myskin

i went from being totally controlled to totalyy clean it is WORK WORK WORK

jump

post away!!!!

do not take yourself too serious it is atzas hayetzer

enjoy life and find rewarding activities to replace the negative behavior

welcom welcome welcome

I am alittle subdued its almost tisha bav

I am seriou 2days a year erev tisha bav until chatzos on tisha bav

and yom kippur

thats all I can handle

bardichev

=====
=====

Re: How Long Did You Experience Withdrawal Symptoms?

Posted by Tomim2B - 29 Jul 2009 21:14

-- deleted --

=====
=====

Re: How Long Did You Experience Withdrawal Symptoms?

Posted by bardichev - 29 Jul 2009 21:49

yes i will gladly explain it holy chaver

I have experienced and found in many sformim (nesivos shalom for one)

the Yh tells aperson that he is insignificant and his CHET has no real affect after he alredy does the chet then he says ah hah !! you lowlife you noi-eff you lowest peice of trash look what you did look where you were pogem dont you know you did a chet that the zohar says there is no teshuvah for huh?? hu? you!!!

at that point do not take yourself too serious say my TATTEH is the chanun hamarbeh lisloach boom! move on keep your eye on the ball and keep on hitting!!!

see my oost fell shmell its cute but important!!

b

=====
=====

Re: How Long Did You Experience Withdrawal Symptoms?
Posted by Tomim2B - 29 Jul 2009 22:27

-- deleted --

=====
=====