

NOT NORMAL!

Posted by Eye.nonymous - 31 Jul 2009 08:47

For years I have assumed that mast once every month or so was actually a natural physical need, and that's part of why I thought it was impossible to resist the yeitzer. (Although once a month is much better than I was doing years ago)

(And my last fall was about a week ago.)

But, I see from this forum, and from the GUE attituded book, that it's possible to be totally clean.

And, I see the powerful of keeping track of your progress and stating your intentions to others.

So, I don't want to accept mast as being at all normal anymore.

And, also, I'm on day 7.

A Tzadik once said.

"Mir Zenen Farfalene Yidden" (Sorry! it only works in Yiddish)

Why?

Because, "Farfalen! Di Bist Ah Yid!"

Yisrael, Af Al Pi Shechoto, Yisroel Hu!

There aint nothin you can do about it.

So we might as well rejoice & chaap a Tance!
