

Break up with lust.

Hi my friend,Lust. I know we've been hanging around a long time,but lately I haven't been well and being with you haven't made me feel more complete. I don't think you're a good influence on me. I think I should respect the women, treat them with dignity,you know? Now it's ok to have different views,but you know me,I can't hang out with people that are diametrically opposite to how I am. And Lust,you are really the opposite of how I am. Look,I know it's going to be hard and you're not going to like it,but it will be better for me to break up my "friendship" with you. Yeah,I know it's egocentric,only thinking about me,but to be honest,aren't you just as egocentric,tempting me with all this images,and then feeling all empty after I've seen them? You're just as egocentric with me. I'm not going to accuse you more,since that's not the way I am. It's better to go my way now,and just erase every trace of you. Sometimes we'll probably bump into each other,but it's ok,I'll just go my way and you your way,ok?

Well,that's about it. All the best.

Sincerely,

We Will Walk.
