

My photo choice

Posted by Holy Yid - 12 Aug 2009 21:05

I know the picture I picked is not happy. I choose it because I want to remember the pain I am on the road away from and what I would feel like if CH'S I fall. Also I felt like I was living underwater till I found the holy people here.

It is a nice picture but at the moment I stick with mine. I look at it as conveying the possibility of going both up and down depending on my choices.

Holy Efshav, you are not fixing the computer. You are fixing your soul and you life in both worlds. Trying to fix the computer is work we leave for the "research department".

By the way you ARE FIXING your soul not trying. Call your self biderech hatiken.
