I know the picture I picked is not happy. I choose it because I want to remember the pain I am on the road away from and what I would feel like if CH'S I fall. Also I felt like I was living underwater till I found the holy people here.

Hi Holy, welcome to the team (better late than never). We discovered this a while ago. It really does bring us together. Along with the music and poetry it adds a lot of Achdus and power to the Battalion.
