Just wanted to say hi its been a while. When reflecting on this past year it started out very shaky. But thanks to my rabbis and guardyoureyes, and my of course my loving wife it is ending off and beggining great. I have taken it upon myself now to cleanse myself by going to the mikvah every erev shabbos, and yom tov. Which was really tough for me coming from a small town which only has a private mikvah. Now I go and its normal to see people and I am a little more comfortable going in the big city non private ones. I just want to wish all my chevrah a gmar vchasimah tova.

Hey reb Loverboy!

Sounds like things are warming back up at home.

Praying for true shalom bayis for you and all who strive for it.

Gmar Chasima Tova

Alex
