Yoish! It's weird really, i wake up very early every morning to go to a shiur, daven with a kol, have a shiur on the way to work, finish tehilim every week & have a shiur in the evening, why does this not protect me from my lust?

Many a times, it almost feels like the Y"H isn't even pushing me to act out, yet I do. I do believe that I need to speak to a professional, but the funds do not allow it and It's very embarrassing. I did speak to someone before about this, but he dismissed it as just curiosity. BUT I KNOW BETTER!

I just cant creep out of this hell
