

Locating a Tread

---

Day before yesterday's e-mail had a question from a young man who was asking if marriage could help him. I have some insight I'd like to share with him, if it hasn't been shared already. Having trouble finding the tread though. Is it possible for someone to help me.

Shalom and Blessing

the Chizuk email's are from a few years back so it is likely that the circumstances of the questioner is not the same now, and it may be that he is not active on the forum.

maybe share the wisdom you have on a thread about marriage.

for example:
