Have a lot of work/money related stress. I really want to forget about it all for a little while. I need some Chizuk to not fall.

i think the only way to deal with money issues is to remember that its all min hashamayim anyway and since it was all nigzar on rosh hashana then we're sort of powerless to do anything about it (easy for me to say though, im not at that stage yet) about chizuk to not fall theres plenty here, but if you want to forget about it then:

first of all get away from those bills or work or whatever it is then do something you enjoy check out the kosher isle here for some ideas also you should go on chat here, there's so many nice and great people here to talk to hope this helps

I also do. But it's poison. It's killing me. It's not worth it, even though every bone in my body, and much of my heart, tells me that it is. But it's not.

All the best!!!!!!!!!!

I did just type it and looked for a minute but closed it and went to GYE. Guess that progress.
