

Tryin'

Shalom

I am in my 40s married with children

Recently, I decided to get help on a serious level with my addiction .

My mind wanders and the tayva builds.

It would be easy to blame this on the lack of excitement in marriage intimacy, but I had done this at times before marriage, and at times, when marriage bedroom was good, I'd still fall. Perhaps it still is the reason, but marriage stuff is probably not gettin' better anytime soon.

I have more to write, but as this is my first post, id like to hear some suggestions first please.

Thank you so much

there is a plus or minus sign next to someone's name on left side of screen. addin' karma means that is one falls, he doesn't need to count it - if his karma is positive; if it's negative, a slip is then a fall also. If you like someone's post, click the thank you on bottom of post and click the plus sign by his karma. a high positive karma also shows a person that he better not fall, for many people are countin' on him. A high karma count also prevents one from fallin', for the karma is with him.

And as I like to quote Lorde: So there!

Cordnoy out of love and appreciation and sheer madness I moved yours from 293 to the Length of the Noah's Ark that you are tryin' to valiantly keep afloat, so now all the wild animals should be under control

Send the lion to me please...

Il like the quote you posted.

Don't understand rest.

You mean lion or tiger?

Question: there was a huge giant animal that couldn't fit in the Ark. How was it saved?

Correct answer gives you a "free slip" card.

The danger of bein' protected by a filter is durin' the times that the filter is no longer there and even upon its return.

Laws of mezuzos prove this point.

(I am not advocatin' for no filters; simply pointin' out a danger.)

Filters work best when we try not to poke around with them too much I wouldn't even know if my filter was working.

The main point is that it needed to breathe wholesome air in order to be saved.
