

Harry's Wife

Yea,we all know her.

Sitting on the bus near you.

The guy next door's wife.

Your best friend's wife.

Bekitzur,everyone's wife but yours.

Hashem commands us:

Do not desire her!

Um,sorry?

I'd understand if You would tell me

"Don't have sex with her!"

But not to lust?

How can we be commanded something that is seemingly out of our control mostly?!

So I ask you the following:

Would you like to buy a nice porsche and drive cross-country?

Yea?

Nice.

Would you like to buy a nice spaceship and circle the moon a few times?

No?

Why not?

I'm sure it would be fun.

The answer is no.

Because it's not shayach.

It's not happening.

It's out of our reach.

The first bracha under the chupa is:

"Who forbade us the betrothed, and permitted the married (the one that you're married to)."

Why?

Because first we must understand that any other women are not shayach.

We must get that into our heads.

It is not happening.

It's like that spaceship.

This is the yesod of the Ibn Ezra.

When I spoke to my sex addiction therapist about this, he pointed out the following:

Think about any wife who would think of cheating on her husband.

Think of how difficult their relationship must be.

And you would go in there and destroy a family even more?

We do not want to enter this sugya, chevra.

Even "just looking"

Any wife who dresses provocatively we must feel bad for.

She's obviously not being shown enough love at home.

We must daven for them.

Not watch them as they walk.

See the other side of the story chevra.

Even pornstars.

What brought them to this place.

Oy!

I feel like crying :'(

"Frankly, my dear, I don't give a d**n." is a line from the 1939 film Gone with the Wind starring Clark Gable and Vivien Leigh.

It was spoken by Gable, as Rhett Butler, in his last words to Scarlett O'Hara. It occurs at the end of the film when Scarlett asks Rhett, "Where shall I go? What shall I do?" if he leaves her. The line is memorable not only because it contains profanity (which was generally not allowed in films of that time period), but because it demonstrates that Rhett has finally given up on Scarlett and no longer cares what happens to her.

But why do that have to wear the skirts short? Can't a skirt look good a little longer?

Is there a reason, other than to entice men, to wear shorter skirts?

Complicated question. Simple answer.

Women like looking good.

Today's looking good= fashionable.

Today's fashionable= short skirts...etc

Trying, you know I think you are very deep and awesome.

But you are lying to yourself.

This conversation is getting tiring.

But women want people, men and women to think they are pretty, especially men.

This is their tayva.

And we have our tayva.

We are not just pigs.

We both have the same issue.

Pashut.

And many women do want men to lust after them.

I had many friends that were girls growing up.

You come from a more yeshivish/frum place, but I can testify that this is a fact among others.

Tayva is tayva.

Don't confuse the issue.

L,

Uri

You're 100 percent right. Women have a tayva to impress men. YET---this is not the reason they dress the way they do on a daily basis. (I understood that's what we were discussing.) A frum woman doesn't put on a makeup and think 'oh goody, now all the guys on the street will think I'm gorgeous'. She knows she looks pretty and feels good about it. They would be horrified of the thought that they might have been machshil other men. And if she talks to a guy and he stares at her in that way, she won't feel good. She'd feel like she's treated as an object, instead of taken seriously. (Disclaimer: I'm talking about frum women, in general. There are always ppl who need attention and will get it any way possible)

I love you all dearly, and believe this entire discussion is l'sheim shomayim. I also have no desire to be a naysayer or otherwise yucky. Nevertheless, I have to admit to all y'all, that I cannot read some posts on this thread as I am too sensitive to them. Nothing horrible, just that they make me feel weirdly ticklish inside and my alarm is going off - for ME, not for anyone else. Just need to stay part of so must share that with my group and explain why I may be apart from in this instance.

OYOY Shabbos!

my alarm is going off

Dear DOV=REBBEREBER,

It's wonderful how honest and self-aware you are...

I'm just curious, how is it that someone who is 11 years in SA and dumps all his goofy thoughts to others, and surely many people dump their goofy thoughts to you too –no? You've mentioned in the past how you make - and take - many program calls every day... So how do you handle when people tell you their deepest, crazy desires? Doesn't it set off the alarm?

Sometimes I need to tell them to stop, and I explain to them exactly why, in order to keep the relationship honest. Often I am suprised at how untriggerring stuff is and wonder if I am just dead, or something....

But between you and me, I believe that if the person sharing is not showing off at all inside, but really dumping because they want to get free of it and give it up, it just doesn't tend to come off as triggerring.

In other words, I have no idea, really....

Dov,

Thanks for sharing.

That someone else knows who I mean, but may choose not to respond. He is a big time anav, and sometimes decides to remain shrouded in mystery.
