Thanks for the help - I past 90 Days Posted by yankeld - 19 Oct 2009 00:33 I passed the 90 day mark a little while ago. It was shortly after Yom Kippur and I've lost track since. A tremendous thanks goes out to all you out there giving support and chizuk on the regular emails which make a big differance. I feel some inspirational writing coming on. Going out to night seder now perhaps I'll write something when I get back. YankelD! :'((tears of joy!) Re: Thanks for the help - I past 90 Days Posted by Sturggle - 19 Oct 2009 08:53 congrats on the 90 days and looking forward to some more posts... If you send me in a short summary of your life-time struggle, how your wife found out, and how you made your recent progress (what tips you used, what helped you the most about GYE), I will bl"n put it into a Chizuk e-mail to 860 members - to inspire many others... You can send it to me by e-mail at eyes.guard@gmail.com
