

Attention: Posts are no longer possible without being logged in.

Because of the inappropriate posts we've been getting lately - every 5 minutes sometimes - (I believe it is a malicious software program that does it), I changed the forum preferences so that guests can no longer post without being registered. However, this still allows anonymous posting since you can use a made-up e-mail address to register (even though it says "it must be a valid e-mail address"). You just have to be logged in to post...

I hope this helps!
