

Someone to Keep a password??

Posted by Optimistic - 18 Sep 2015 23:41

Hey guys, I'm temporarily installing a filter on a computer at home while on break and need someone to volunteer to keep the password for the filter and the email I'm creating for it.

Thanks in advance!!

venishmartem.com/vcf

There is no filter with venishmartem. They sort everything out for you. If you're blocked unnecessarily you can ask them to unblock it for you and they normally do so within 10 minutes. By far the most stress free filter.

I like your name, and your plan while on break. I'd be glad to keep the password for you if so needed - you can contact me on my anonymous email address markzgye@gmail.com

Thanks so much! And thanks, Watson, but I'm using K9. It's quicker and simpler, and it'll take too long for me to sign up for scholarship with Nishmartem (I aint got no money), and get it installed and so forth. And I also need it uninstalled before I leave here, so that everything is returned back to normal.

I'm happy I was able to help you with the passwords.

Could you help us all and share what lust busting tools / steps you're taking to be "Optimistic"?
