

Help for Hebrew Speakers?

Posted by Eye.nonymous - 02 Nov 2009 13:39

Surprisingly, I have heard the Rav of my very insular and very frum community (on two occasions recently) mention the dangers of the internet, and how people who appear to be Talmidei Chachamim are, in the privacy of their own home in the late night hours, are looking at forbidden things.

Apparantly, he is aware of the problem.

BUT, I suspect he does not know what sort of help is available.

Another problem is I live in an Israeli, Hebrew-speaking, community. I don't know how much it would help to put up a notice to check out the GUE forum.

I feel like this might be an opportunity to offer some insights. BUT, on the other hand, I feel like I'm still wallowing in the dirt trying to stay clean--I'm barely able to help myself right now.

What can I possibly do to enlighten a Hebrew-Speaking Rav of a Hebrew-speaking community?

So far I seem to be alone on this one. Here's a letter I came up with: (I don't know why, but one of the last paragraphs didn't come out right on this viewer.)

It was one of my first emails to R' Guard, is there anything on the form in Hebrew, and I didn't get a reply so I understood that time is not ripe yet.

My simple suggestion would be to make another folder here in Hebrew, like we have for the wall of honor and beis hamedrash etc.

R' Guard wrote somewhere that it is in the pipeline but I believe it could start like that and eventually grow into an own site.

Of course I can only suggest.

that's a really nice letter.

just wanted to know if you wanted to put R' shlachter's website in.

uri mentioned it once. it's hugme.co.il

i really have no time to read through the whole website (my hebrew reading is pretty slow), and the SA part requires you to sign in.

otherwise, it's looks like a good letter and aren't there SA groups in Israel? i thought there were.

Thank you Eye, that's a nice letter!!

We actually have a Hebrew forum, and Reb Shraga Shlachter offered to be the admin/moderator. (Hebrew is his first language)... He still needs to decide which boards he wants, and he was supposed to do that this week...

Meanwhile, there's only one post there... (It's a Hebrew translation of the preface to the GYE Handbook)...

Go ahead and post away. Maybe it will get Reb Shlachter to hurry up and arrange the boards...

I also have some material in Hebrew... Someone offered to translate the Attitude Handbook into Hebrew and he translated the intro and the first 6 principles already... If anyone wants a copy, feel free to e-mail me! Oh, and I also have a nice article about GYE in Hebrew. Press here to see it. You can print it out and give it to any Rav you want! :D

I am looking forward to having a Hebrew division of GYE... But I can't do much on my own. Whoever wants to volunteer to help with this, we'd be more than happy to hear suggestions.

P.S. Reb Shraga has a website in Hebrew called www.hugme.co.il for addictions, but it never really got off the ground (at least "yet").

Any reason why?

Meanwhile, it's not connected to this forum, so your username and password here won't work. It's an entirely different forum. You need to sign up first.

R' Guard,

I'm sure you are extremely busy with running this site, but do you have any plans in the future to broaden this network to using other languages? Yidd ish? Russian, Spanish, French etc..?

A quote from "In Conclusion" of the GYE Handbook:

We fervently hope that this handbook (along with the "GYE Attitude Handbook") will ultimately evolve into a published book that will provide hope and guidance to thousands of religious Jews around the world who may suffer from Lust addiction. And we also hope that our message will one day be translated into other languages as well, such as Hebrew, Russian, Spanish, French and more!

I have a dream... ... One day... When the millions start coming in and we start opening centers around the world... ;D
