It says in lech lecha that Avrohom told Sorah that "now he knows that she is beautiful." Rashi brings the midrash that becuz of the tznius between them he never even saw her until he accidently saw her reflection in the water. In all the years they were married, Avrohom never even saw Sorah. If he didnt see her then he certainly didnt stam shmooze with her or go out on "married dates" with her.

This is the ideal that the Torah wants. Avrohom and Sorah are the model for a yiddishe marrage. Just like Avrohom never looked at Sorah and certinly never socialized with her, so too we should strive to reach this goal with our own wives. Halevai if any man could say that he didnt know his wife was pretty becuz he never looked at her.

Ok Guys go ahead give it to him

I think you just managed to combine a vort and a joke in the same post.

Keepin' myself busy tonight, so hopefully stayin' out of trouble, but I feel like I have to join in the fun. First off, props to Markz for comin' up with this amazin' idea, it's definitely great to have somethin' to do if we would otherwise have nothin'. (As an aside, why is the letter 'g' taboo around these here boards? Followin' what everyone else's doin', but not sure why...) I don't have any specific Joke or Vort to add here, but stopping by anyways. Oh, and since I'm a).

rebel, I'm typin' exactly a hundred and one words (plus a smiley

Does anyone have any idea what he's talkin' about?

Who doesn't use the letter "G" around here?

It shortens the 100 word paragraph.

There are some very dirty words that are forbidden to mention here, eg spelling out YH

Or mentioning G - Gehennim, Cordnoy doesn't want to frighten anyone away.

Although he doesn't know exactly what it is as mentioned regarding the iPhone song

That was a short Motzei Shabbos.

No-one has posted on any of the forums for the last 2 hours. It's only me here

Seems everyone's asleep already

Is that such a bad thing? It doesn't matter where we're doing it, as long as we're staying out of

A thought on this past week's parsha

Rabbi Avraham Twerski wrote:

"Many relationships begin with two people falling in love. While this seems to be perfectly logical, listen to what George Bernard Shaw said: "When two people are under the influence of the most violent, most insane, most illusive, and most transient of passions, they are required to swear that they will remain in that excited, abnormal, and exhausting condition continuously until death do them part." Even if they do not take a formal oath to that effect, they probably believe that their passion will be eternal.

Of course, love is essential to a marriage, but see what the Torah says about the marriage of Yitzhak to Rivka, "He married Rivka, she became his wife, and he loved her" (Breishis 24:67). Look carefully at the sequence of the words. Yitzhak's love for Rivka developed after the marriage rather than before it."

I was wondering that also. then i got to the wall of honor and i got an email about some hidden forum. My first thought was "aha that's where all the people are" then I went there and there were only about two threads and five posts so i realized that wasn't the answer.

maybe all the thousand of others are still hanging out on the gyu forum and have secret passwords, and the whole business of the new forum was just to get rid of the "simple" guys

This is still relevant Nov 2015...

Speakin' of sides, here is the startin' lineup for the ZZZ team!

TZ at point guard

Nitzy at shootin' guard

Lizzy at small forward

Netzach at power forward

the man in the Middle....Zemmy

Do we got a ZZZ coach?
