

Re: Caim's story - I feel great on gye
Posted by Caim - 30 Nov 2015 12:39

Hi, I am new to this site, and I just started out on my 90 day journey. It's been a four days already that I'm clean already B"H. However, I'm starting to feel like it's getting hard for me like I miss the excitement and the feeling. Can anyone give me ideas what to do about it. I would greatly appreciate it.

What you're feeling maybe the withdrawal it's part of the healing. The 12 step program deals with you're questions. You got to keep in mind that it's not a quick fix, and only counting will hardly do the job. However you have come to the right place, stick around for there's tons of help here.

Hi Chaim,

Do you exercise daily? Do you learn Torah daily?

Since I work during the day I do not have enough time to learn or to do exercise. However I will try to work on to make some time for excercise and learning more during the day. Also how can I deal with the withdrawal feeling I am experiencing, and what is the JHF section, and where is it on the website, thank you very much for all of the ideas

Hi Caim. Welcome to the army. We're not here to win, (as tempting as that is) we're here to fight. We have spy missions where we learn how to trick the y"h. We learn how to build a long term war strategy, there is even a bomb section where we can get a emergency turn-off when the talva is brewin', and then there is a place to work on reconstruction, to rebuild our lives after the dictator has been thrown out.

. Really, there is tons to gain here (like our whole lives). Stick around

Have you read the GYE handbook yet?
