

"Kosher" Entertainment

Posted by Moving_forward - 28 Apr 2016 20:24

Hey I just wanted to create a thread so people can share movies, TV shows, blogs or any other entertainment that we can watch without compromising on smiras einayim. While it's best not to watch any non Jewish movies or the like, I'm unable to just quit completely as I will just go back to watching anything. Please share any clean entertainment you're watching for the benefit of others. Thank you

I personally don't like to recommend YouTube

Are there any clean websites you can share, besides for the ones gye does?

While you may not recommend its been extremely helpful for me and I think it can be for others. There are millions of hours of clean content on there. Obviously everyone has there own levels, and some abstain from watching anything. This thread is for people that are watching mainstream media.
