Good afternoon all my fellow brethren.

I have not updated my standing in 48 days because I have fallen. I don't know how to get back up. Falling led to more and more. I know what I must do, but i can't and don't want to let go. I am living a lie because I'm so afraid of being honest and facing the let down of those I hold dear.

I plead to you G-D to take my terrible burden one moment at a time.

Moshe Emes - Welcome!

You may want to start on a life of honesty and not do like Korach that preferred to declare your truth in his grave

But again, it's your decision

Keep On T(ruthing)
