Yosef,

I owe you a Karma as well. You made a big leap and your whole life is changing. I was nearly oiver on being chozer b'diburo (since you sided with the giraffe), but I consider Karma a matana meruba which one may be chozer on (see gemara in B. Metz.). Now that THAT is over, I think I can only give 1 every 6 hours, but I will as soon as my stock is replenished IYH.

Everyone is special in their own way, but you seem to be the one who had made the biggest change (in the 2 weeks since inception of 196). (I tried not to use the word turkey to respect those who have no mesorah to eat it) Today we read Edus Bihosef Samo in the shir shel yom as I mentioned in a vort earlier and at the end of this parsha Yosef passed his nasayon

B"H the wave passed! thanks LifneiHashem for your Chizuk.

When i felt the drive coming up, i first felt so lost, didnt know what to do, so i thought first thing ill post it on the group and share it with you all, after i posted my message it got much easier, and was more in control.

If not for GYE and this Mini, i would've probably started with movies & gone off who knows where.....

I have not posted in a few days, but have been reading everyone else's posts. Thank you to all for keeping this thread alive.

To make a long story short, I have had a very very slippery week. B'h I have not fallen, but I have been very close too many times. The only thing that really saved me is the fact that I could not bear resetting the 90 chart back to zero. So here I am.

So I put in the text that you put in the box and i get directed to 2 sites the first is one that webchaver says is highly questionable and the second is a chassidishe forum completely in yiddish. You crack me up. I'll give you a karma when I get a chance (I can't now cuz it's not 6 hours since i gave one to I dont remember who).

Well, if you are giving me a karma, I will tell you what do did wrong:

You pasted a replica of my text and I also found that Yiddish forum. That is hilarious! Like an IT forum being dictated by a little kid with suspenders (the only one in the shtetl who knows what a computer is AND how to say it in English) to help people with their computer issues. Well, my yiddish is so good I can tell the words of the title on the tab is 'computer tips and tricks'. AND the name of the poster on top is hypocrite. Is he calling himself a hypocrite because he owns a computer?

OMG, I have to stop reading. This forum is 90% kids and one kid made/found some upside down site and suspenders said I ???Il? po uo? ?uo? ??? ?on?s ?s q????? ???u ???d://????nds?p?po?u??x???o?/. So suspenders also likes my site. Then, someone asks is Incognito really private? Well, until now, having a Yiddish forum was really private.

I envy holy people who do not have to deal with the computer, but I hope these people are not rebelling against their customs. Maybe I can find their Rav to give us all a group lecture together

Now for the hint:

Do not paste the text because the text is not in the correct form. First decipher, then type.

I thought I saw someone (suspenders' sister?) with a finger to her mouth warning and reminding people not to share any of these secrets. Not sure where she went, but I would will IYH respect her wishes and advise everyone the same (however, this does not apply to reporting the forum to their rav)

Again, dinner wasn't ready, the table wasn't clean, nobody was there and waiting for me, when I came home.
Nobody gets it that we are operating on a better, upgraded system of reality now, with the family eating together and spending real quality time together for the first 45 minutes to an hour after I come home every night. They have all gotten so used to the broken, bad system of behavior with everyone doing their own thing, that they are "caught off guard" when I ask where everyone is.

It takes over a 1/2 hour to get everyone and the table and dinner together, and I feel a strong urge, with the force of a really bad habit, rise up inside of me.

I just wanted to escape and put on the computer!!!

The computer, that was always there for me, and soothed me, and kept me calm and entertained...plugged into the matrix, filling my head with tyvahs and garbage, wasting my life, and hurting my real connections to HaShem and to my family...but always there for me.

But now it wasn't available!

And my son wasn't even home to put in his 1/2 a password, so that I could change it!

Wow...

The desire and frustration was real. I told everyone that if I am no longer going to have the computer to escape to, then I want/need to have dinner and everybody ready to spend family time together...on time, when I come home

(which is a known time within 5 minutes or so).

So, we were running very late. I was frustrated, but finally ready to start learning.

First, my son says it's too late to start learning. I got so frustrated, I yelled at him

(not proud of that reaction). Then, we finally started, and within the very first Mishna, we kept getting interrupted. My wife just wanted to ask him something, and then another thing, they are talking in whispers using hand gestures back and forth, as I read out loud the Mishna, and I got so frustrated, that I left the table.

NO learning, no shalom bayis, but no computer, and no late-night either.

I slept well, until I heard an animal on our roof at 5:00 in the morning.

I will make up with everyone today, so that I/we go into Shabbos with shalom.

I think I'm only 2 full days into Cold Turkey...I sure hope it gets easier, because last night sucked!
