

Masterbation and 90 days

Posted by mystory - 02 Nov 2017 12:02

I am having trouble getting anywhere in my 90 count. Due to the masterbation part of it.

I came here after hearing the ads about guarding my eyes, and the dangers of the internet.

How watch videos and looking at images is not not a good thing.

I can then say to myself yes. Look at all the time i have wasted looked at videos and images.

But I am having problems with the masterbation part of it.

The same argument does not apply. It takes aboout 2-5 mins to masterbate.

Sure you can argue its a waste of time, but too be honest its not so convincing. Some people decide to smoke other waste much more time on facebook and other time wasters, movies, tvs, etc.

So Since I came on here I have only watched about 15-20 mins worth of videos sure zero would be better but going from 1-2 hours aday to this is very good improvement.

How how do I conquer the masturbation part, since I need a logical reason to stop it.

Hi and Welcome,

Seems from the length of your question that you dont want or dont see a need to give up masturbation. So then why bother. As you wrote it takes only a short time, so why not.

However for me I can say that Lust and sex has taken control of my life including masturbation. As a matter of fact most of my acting out was masturbation only without physical images, although I had images in mind. I came to a point where if i dont stop my behavior I may one day pull the plug on my life one way or another. So I dont have to much choices.

Before I started my recovery I had only two choices. Either I act out or I act out. Today I have one more choice, which is I can work on my recovery and abstain from acting out.

Hi,

I think the answer is that a yid has to be able to hold back from giving in to improper desires, if you wont be able to hold back from this you eventually wont be able to hold back from other bad stuff.

Aside from the fact that it is an aveira there is no reason to stop, unless you are like me and my other friends above who want to live happy joyous and free from addiction. If I wasn't frum and it wasn't an addiction for me I'd be fine with it. It's even considered healthy today.

BH

I think its great that you have lowered the amount of time etc. Keep up the great work.

But I think what usually happens its increases and the addictions becomes stronger over time.

So at the very least never stop working on it.

I am here because I tired to live a second life...

Schmutz and zera levatalah are not for me or for anyone! Even more when we loose control on our own lifes.

Serenity,

While I respect your take I don't agree at all: if I want frum I would probably masturbate too, but the truth is that it would become an increasing thing for me, I'd masturbate with a frequency that would probably affect my ability and interest to be intimate with my wife, and it would probably take up a lot of time that I could use better.

I would use pornography as well, my wife very likely wouldn't like that even if we weren't frum, and there are a host of other problems that would come out of it.

So yes, if I wasn't frum and could say I would do it in a minimal and non-increasing way then maybe I would too, but since that's the case, I'd stop regardless.

Seems to me that we are in total agreement.

I can't act out in a healthy manner and so regardless of the aveira I don't do it. The original poster seems to indicate that he hasn't yet found a logical reason to stop. He doesn't do it all that much and he can now control his porn watching. I guess the aveira part isn't a "logical" enough reason for him to stop.

I don't see where we are in total disagreement; which of course, it would be okay if we were.
