

URGENT PLEA TO ALL MEMBERS!!!!

Posted by battleworn - 24 Feb 2009 14:47

My teenage son, who has been out of yeshiva for more than a year and already has a lot of garbage on his mp3 player, is about to buy himself a new sophisticated cellphone. It may be, that the main reason that he wants to get it is because he thinks it's what makes him "chashuv". But he definitely has no idea at all what he is getting himself in to. I was planning on having a talk with him, as we do have a very good relationship, but lema'aseh he is a teenager and that means that parent's words don't carry much weight.

I beg of every single one of you: Please try to write something to my son. Tell him what it means to get addicted. Tell him what you would give to be able to turn the clock back... Tell him what what gehinom on this world he can avoid, if he uses his seichel now..... Tell him anything that you think might help.

He can't read English, but I can read it to him. If you can write in Hebrew, of course that would be much better.

LO SA'AMOD AL DAM REI'ECHA!!!

Thank you very much!!!

O'K so here's a very quick update. Before purim I became so full of pain about my son. On Taanis esther I spent many hours by the kosel. On Purim Hashem performed two miracles to keep my son off the streets -where he had planned to hang out with friends. I got a very big chizuk in bitachon from that, but last night I got knocked down really hard. Today I was zocheh to speak to R' Tzvi Meir and he gave me great chizuk and hadracha. Then as my bus was passing my son's work, I suddenly got the idea to jump off and go visit him. He ended up coming to my office, and I got him very curious about this forum. So we made up to have a talk tomorrow morning -PLEASE DAVEN VERY HARD THAT I SHOULD HAVE UNLIMITED SIYATA DISHMAYA. It's more than obvious that the reason why I didn't manage to get him here till now is because Hashem knew that I first need to get that chizuk and hadracha from my rebbie.

I've learned a great deal about bitachon and tefilah lately and I'd like to share it with you as soon as I can find the time. Thank you all so much for your tefilos and posts. You should all be zocheh to see miraculous success in your battles!

Very determined battleworn

I'm praying for you and your son....and all the fathers and sons of Klal Yisrael.

I'm so glad this situation is progressing positively.

Thank you for asking and thank you very much for your help. Boruch Hashem things are looking good (for those who know how to look). He did not buy the phone and it doesn't look like he will. More importantly, he understands the danger in general. Furthermore, my relationship with him is at an all time high. I really have more to say but I can't right now. Thanx again!
