Personally, I struggled/struggle much more when we were mutar. There are, however, many in your shoes. Many threads have been dedicated to this issue.

I think you should describe yourself better.

?Do you struggle during normal periods +/- 2 weeks till Mikva, or is your wife Nida for a longer time like after birth, problems getting clean etc'.

Triggered by reading the details mentioned above which just causes inappropriate thoughts which is unnecessary if it can be avoided by using the bb forum to discuss those details etc.

Am I that off?

This fellow doesn't have access to the bb forum so he posted here. There are no triggerin' details on this thread. You know about niddah and muttar and assur. The hallway by your shul is more triggerin' than this thread.
