

Grant's Rants

Posted by Grant400 - 30 Apr 2023 22:12

Seem to be out of the woods now.

On the way back in.

How long will it take to get there?

That's 100% up to me.

Is there a suggestion box where we can suggest the subject of the next rant?

Anyway, here's a thought I learned from the general.

Don't act selfless. Be selfless.

The General seems to be AWOL so the boots on the ground may have to strap some shiny medals onto their chest & & stand up tall.

A fall of a thousand miles starts with a single click.

Hey Grant,

The halacha rules that if you allow the public to access your property for public use, you're not allowed to take it back, unless you notified the public beforehand. You gave us access to your property (thoughts) with these great rants, I don't know if your halachically allowed to just stop this....

All jokes aside, much appreciated!

When struggling today, don't just focus on the negatives of giving in right now, think about which road it can lead you down, and where that road can take you in five years.

But when I start a journey of a thousand miles, I need to start with a single step because if I focus on the future, I'll never start.

I think I'll stick to the present in either case and leave the future where it belongs.

Year 1: I have this struggle because of A, B, C, D.

Year 2: (A goes away) I have this struggle because of B, C, D, E.

Year 3: (B goes away) I have this struggle because of C, D, E, F.

Those triggers/problems may be legitimate, yet at the core there will always be the issue itself.

That's what I need to focus on.

What are you referring to as the issue itself?

Blonde sheitels lie.

More times than not.

Isn't the sheitel's main job to lie?

So what if it lies about one more thing...?

It's meant to hide, not to lie

Many people have the assumption that they have these desires and falls due to stress, shalom bayis, loneliness. Once they resolve these problems the struggle will cease. Oh how wrong and painful this approach is.

A relative of mine spent thousands of dollars towards therapists to help him deal with A, B, C, D, E, F.... until he realized that at the core there will always be the issue itself.

The core may be the issue itself.

The core may be the letters above (and many times that is the case).

The core may be the person himself.
