

90 Days in the books

Posted by StingRay - 17 May 2023 21:19

When I started this out I didn't believe it would become a part of me. I was in an out of P&M and just started to try to get from adar to purim clean. This kept going and for the most part went smooth. Then as I reached 80 I was going crazy with urges! Bh I came out clean and I'm on the other side on 90! I wish I can say it's easier because it's not. In fact I have this nagging feeling of I will never get the pleasures again which makes it so much harder. I'm married and have my needs taken care of for the most part but I'm crazy over doing things that are wrong and once I have it it's eh.. I need to earn it. To do something I can't. A girl I can't have. Something dangerous.

well anyways life continues and we will keep battling as it's a life long battle. Wish me luck and if you have any good advice please let me know!

Thanks!

When I felt my fingers looking for no good I would pull up GYE and look at my clean day streak, that helped. Obviously didn't solve the urge as nothing can but it provided some motivation. How far alone are you?

honestly I miss porn like an old friend, I'm not out of the woods yet...
