

iOS Users

Posted by Medly1234 - 21 Sep 2023 02:44

---

Currently I am using the regular restrictions that comes with my iPhone but I find myself always updating it to block more websites and putting timers on apps because you can block specific apps. I use it mainly because it's free. B"H after updating it so many times and blocking more websites and putting timers on more apps I finally sealed it up. What do other iOS users do with all the loopholes in the restrictions?

=====
=====

Re: iOS Users

Posted by Grant400 - 21 Sep 2023 03:23

---

"just check" things... . We may need to

=====
=====

Re: iOS Users

Posted by Medly1234 - 21 Sep 2023 04:26

---

Do you think this post will cause harm to ppl bc if yes then I will remove it

=====
=====

Re: iOS Users

Posted by anonymousmillennial - 21 Sep 2023 07:08

---

I block all websites, and the ability to install new apps.

Uh oh... sounds like the answer to your question may give us some ideas.
What I do, is let someone close to me make the parental controls code, so that if I need some configuration done, it's never too far away.

And after this initial setup, whitelist as needed.

I know it severely limits the browsing capability as basically you can't use the browser freely, and I know it might not be for everyone, but I find that for the time being it works for me.

Yes, it's scary to give up browser capability, but it basically gives you a ton of control back in living your life normally.

Hope this helps.

=====
=====

Re: iOS Users
Posted by bright - 21 Sep 2023 12:32

---

Medly1234 wrote on 21 Sep 2023 02:44:

Currently I am using the regular restrictions that comes with my iPhone but I find myself always updating it to block more websites and putting timers on apps because you can block specific apps. I use it mainly because it's free. B"H after updating it so many times and blocking more websites and putting timers on more apps I finally sealed it up. What do other iOS users do with all the loopholes in the restrictions?

Speak to the pros. But keep in mind there is ALWAYS a loophole, either in the phone or in life. We gotta also learn to say NO.

=====
=====

Re: iOS Users
Posted by mount... - 31 Oct 2023 18:37

---

I use an app called OurPact, which is a parental restriction app that you install on your phone and someone else's phone and is controlled from their phone. It has the ability to block certain apps and websites, either all day or for certain times.

I don't know if it's foolproof, but it might be worth looking into, maybe in addition to restrictions.

=====
=====