

Looking for a mentor

Posted by time2win - 13 Mar 2025 19:13

Hi everyone,

I'm doing ok in recovery but am having trouble breaking through to the next level and would greatly appreciate a mentor who I can reach out to on occasion when times get tough and/or motivation is lagging. I've already bared my soul on these forums, so my religious and personality profile is pretty visible. If you've achieved long term sobriety, feel like you've tamed the beast, and have the time and interest in taking me on as a mentee, please PM me. (If you are super yeshivish God bless you, but we probably wouldn't shtim, unless you work in Kiruv or have MoDox relatives).I don't expect this to be more than 15 mins every other week. Muchos gracias.

There is a mentors program in the community page. They can probably find the best match better than you can find it on the forum.

Dear time2win, feel free to email me at the email in my signature, I'd be honored to get to know you

Call this guy ^^

(Though he is probably super yeshivish, idk that he does kiruv, and have never met any of his relatives but would assume they have long beards (rabbinical beards. Not zz top beards.) I'd still bet hard that you'll shtim.)

(Reb PY, we gracefully await your list, since you were called upon as the one and only, it feels wrong to copywrite it now)

Hatzlacha and Kol Tov
