

Can't do this on my own

Hi,

I've posted a bit on gye before. I was doing well the last 2 months with a few long streaks in that time period but it's gone a bit rough the past few days . I'm a bochur learning in EY and I had contact with a mentor over bein hazmanim as well as being active on gye . This allowed me to make serious progress. But recently we have hardly been in touch - he lives in LA so the time difference is really difficult . I've been suffering a bit with yeshiva so I'm in a rough place at the moment. I'm in need of a new mentor and friends that can really be there for me . I'm really struggling. What do the oilam recommend ?
