I need chizuk... Oyy.... There is this annoying fly buzzing me in my ears and telling me the following its not that I have an impulse to do anything wrong right now I am just thinking what do I need all this for? Why am talking about this stuff... Whats the big deal to m I have kids bh,everyone has their ups and downs in life...

Why give it all up, enjoy life be merry...

Is there a button to throw some pickle juice or hering if so please do so to me

Those talking flies are the worst. But it's like one of those fly traps - a nice, bright light pulling u in... then zap. The fly should know that.

tell the flies that the YH has a life-term. with noi paid vacations, or offdays. he works 24/7/365/120 , so if you have no issues now, t's the calm before the storm. and those little flies that are telling you about this calm, wel..... that IS your YH, sorry to blow his cover.
