

struggle continues

from a high to a low-

So after a shabbos where I made harchakos from mstrbtion and erotic lit as well as davened what i felt were good tefillos, i fell twice in a short span; once last night and once this morning. Right after the falls, i felt that since the urge and the yh were so immensely powerful, i felt powerless and concluded there is nothing i could have done this time other than msbt... I didnt have remorse basically; I chalked it up to the YH.

the yezter hara seems to have so much patience that even if i go a week clean (which is what i had) the urge can come at any moment...

help appreciated...thanks guys.

Yes, I think so.

I will comment on this more but I have to go to sleep soon and I wanted to make another point....

Don't know how many guys here watch sports but as the NBA Finals are on and I watch them- I get disgusted with the ads. It is no seceret that most ads these days are inapproiate- especially for guys like us. It is ridiculous how many commercials/movie trailers, etc. revolve around some sort of seduction or scantily clad women (sry for the trigger- just trying to make a point here)...I just starting leaving the room for the commercials...

Based on the ads, it's a miracle that basketballs are not triggering to us yet!

Was that funny?

I'll go out on a limb here; ..

She's not stupid.

She knows what the world looks like these days. It even makes women feel uncomfortable, as if they 'also have to dress this way' to fit in.

I told my wife "you know where I come from (I wasn't raised frum, my wife was).. I saw too much garbage and the streets these days aren't helping much.. These emails, books etc help me stay focused on my goals, not waste time, keep only you on my mind (she liked that last one :-))) etc...

"You know I'm not messing around out there, I want to keep it that way"..

The more transparent my relationship w/her, the more serene our connection is..

Good Shabbos

This is a sensitive one, but honesty is big ingredient in any real relationship - bigger than love, even. Hatzlocha. Honesty is better than politically correct, too. There are no half-ways in honesty - but there is a stupid way to say anything, and a (few) smart ways. Hatzlocha.

Just don't go into ALL the nitty-gritty details. I think that is probably a stupid thing to do.

wedding in one month

this by no means excuses our behavior- but we have had major shomer negia breaches over the past several months. most of the time it has been me that cannot control myself. is it my lust or my love for her? i hope it is the second (not that that makes it ok) but maybe it is both. i wont deny my lust issues. on the way from camp to the city i was triggered by a girl sitting next to me in the car (not my fiancée)- i had thoughts of breaching SN with my fiancée. then when i got closer the lust thoughts went away and i was 'determined' to stay clean this time. well i was clean for the first part of the morning but then i slipped.

i rationalize by saying that my fiancée misses me etc. but i know its wrong. hopefully we can stay clean til the wedding as i go back to camp tmrw, etc.

I'll PM you on this, bl'n.

It may serve you a lot better to drop the term "shomer negiyah" completely. Call it 'having an honest relationship between your marriage and G-d'.

Cuz that's what it is. I have no interest nor pleasure in laying a guilt trip on you, at all. It's just a much more mature way of approaching boundaries with your wife.

If you do not keep boundaries like this now, you will not keep niddah later. Don't fool yourselves.

This is one of the big opportunities you will have to be in a relationship with G-d as a marriage. It's not about a particular holocha, issur, or whatever. It is the general honesty you have as a couple under G-d - or it is nothing.

Hatzlocha. You will never forget this time together as long as you live. Guaranteed.
