(any questions , insights & suggestions about this thread,feel free to email me at taryaga@gmail.com)

There are many reasons we need to be where we are and who we are,most are unknown.Why do we even have to be in a situation or have in our soul so much darkness and a pull toward self-destructing negative behaviors?

I saw once an amazing thought in a sefer.Moshe Rabeinu came from a union that after the Torah was given would have deemed him a mamzer(parents being an aunt & nephew).He could not boast of his lineage.This is one reason that let him be the greatest Anov that ever lived.

We who have to deal with the stuff that's in us that we would rather not have in the first place-this pain and shame over the course of time -makes us realize that even when we b'ezras Hashem pull out of the addictions-we will never look at another Yid that is struggling with this in a negative way

We catch a Yid looking where he shouldn't be looking and our hearts are full of compassion.We will daven for him,treat him with respect,gently try to get him out of it.We would never disgrace him-not even in our hearts-because we were there.We know what it's like.In our eyes he is a potential tzaddik.

This is surely one reason Hashem gave us this urge towards baseness with all it's shades of ugliness.Yes you are special-like every Yid is-but never ever judge harshly My son or daughter that is struggling-because I love him or her - he or she is part of Klall Yisroel.Just as indispensable as you are.

Dear friends,

I missed all of you.

I'm out of town and on a hotel computer and I have not spoken to Guard yet about what this tzaddik said to him after i was instructed to leave. But I will take R Guard's word that the decision was reversed and I will post something I saw in "In Forest Fields" by Rabbi Arush

Knowing that everything comes Hashem, one can find encouragement and avoid falling into darkness and despair. Despair ruins hope, as if there is no way out of his problem and nothing to do, as if the stern judgement is irreversible.

There is no such thing as "nothing to do" about a problem or predicament.

It only seems that way to a man's limited vision, for in truth one does not know where salvation will come from.

Indeed one should not worry about where the solution will come from

Rather, he should thank Hashem for the problem itself, for surely it is for his ultimate benefit, whether to arouse him to a deep repentance or to cleanse him or for many other reasons, all to help the person become what he or she is supposed to.

Hashem can take the worst situation and turn it around completely around for the good

So none of us here should let the idea that we have these dark challenges within ourselves cause us to fall into despair

It is exactly the opposite.

when we 'fight' or as we are told, to be brave enough to 'let go', and leave everything in Hashem's Hands, we will see over time that the greatest blessings in life come from those things that we thought were the worst things that happened to us.

And that very dark and powerful desire for unhealthy things is the very fuel and very source of the greatness that is within you, that you WILL SEE VERY CLEARLY EVEN IN THIS WORLD, once you finally allow Hashem to pull you out, and bring you in, because it is then that you will be who you truly are.

After recovery, make sure not to think that you wasted a big chunk of your life.

No matter how long it took to pull out of this (AND YOU WILL PULL OUT, YOU ABSOLUTELY WILL)

Nothing in your life is wasted

And in retrospect, even those dark times, or especially those dark times will have great and deep meaning.

B'Ahavah Rabba

Boruch Hashem,things are going well,but I was having withdrawal symptoms from not posting.as well as experiencing the ups and downs in life;I have to learn to see Hashem in everything,and all all times,which I know will take alot of work,and davening and help from Hashem.

I'm on my way back home
