

14 yrs old religious but just cant stop
Posted by abie14 - 19 Aug 2010 01:40 okay so im 14 yrs old and i feel pretty religious. all my friends think i am the most religious but i have this one problem i just cant stop. i am not actually masturbating at all but i am going on the computer (around 3 to 4 times a month) and looking for some sex stories and i end un seeing stuff in my underwear. every time this happens i really try to stop and do teshuvah but it never works. i feel that once i let my yetzer harah get a little it takes a lot. Please help me i really want to stop. Right now i feel a little urge but i am not going to thank you

Dov I loved you tefillah I think it is so important for 14 to understand how much damage he is doing to himself by this path.I'm sure I will learn more but it causes you to live ina bubble -relationships don't matter because youve got your friend,it will stunt yur emotional growth ,mess up your ability to think properly and could screw up your life.Somebody please tell him why he has to wale up.
