I'm in isolation too, tell me about it. I am finding myself obsessed over women on the street, neighbors and friends. Why does my mind tell me it's sooooo good when I know there is nothing there for me, why can't I feel what I know.

Now I'm at work, supposed to be leaving but for some reason would rather isolate here than go home.

Why don't you post exactly how you are feeling and then get out of whatever isolation you are in. Go to the store, mincha, friend or family.

Regardless, because I was able to respond to your post, I am outta my office and going to mincha, thanks to YOU, I'm serious, I was about to search that stupid site I always look at just to see if there is anything triggering there.

Hatzlocha.

Dear Yitzchok,

Welcome to GYE!

Try introducing yourself on the INTRODUCE YOURSELF board.

You have a lot of friends here who are interested in your growth.

By introducing yourself on that board it gets easier to open up.

You are also more likely to get a proper warm welcome over there.

You can also pm me if you have any questions.

hatzlocha!

isolation rhymes with causation and is in need of cessation hurry up before deflation, log on and get an education.

by which i mean emulation and elevation come out of hibernation come join your nation in this operation in summation that's the situation.

kol tuv.
