

The Legacy of Moshe (Mo) Berkowitz
Posted by Holy Yid - 05 Dec 2010 06:14

I quote from a chizuk email last week

A Tribute to Moshe Berkowitz z"l [<http://matzav.com/a-tribute-to-mo-berkowitz-zl>]

Moshe was recently killed in a car accident by a drunken driver.

A quote from an article on Matzav.com:

"Moshe recently decided to join a program that monitors internet usage [<http://www.webchaver.com>].

Shortly afterwards, about thirty people from the yeshiva signed up for a similar program. Since he was in the parsha of shidduchim for a while, Moshe decided to become extra zahir in shmiras einayim as a means of making himself more worthy of meeting hisbashert. Only a few weeks ago, Moshe asked his rebbi to take charge of his shidduchim, explaining to him that after months of shmiras einayim, he truly felt he was ready for marriage."

Le'ilui Nishmaso, let us all be mekabel to strengthen our shmiras ainayim in his zechus.

I am starting a campian that we are (all) mikabel a shimrea lizacher nishmaso.

That means we do something that might make our life harder but protects us from sin.

For me it is my cell phone. I am about to get a new phone and a fancy smartphone would be nice. BUT unless I am 100% sure I can filter the web on it and stay safe b'n I will not get it.

=====

Re: The Legacy of Moshe (Mo) Berkowitz
Posted by Holy Yid - 06 Dec 2010 04:44

Why no bites???

=====

Re: The Legacy of Moshe (Mo) Berkowitz
Posted by StrugglingGuy - 06 Dec 2010 04:49

i see it i am not sure what to do tho

=====