

Wish me mazal tov on graduating from college

Posted by aryehthor - 15 Dec 2010 15:55

---

Just wanted to inform the olam that I am officially done with college and will be in Eretz HaKodesh in a couple weeks, learning in yeshiva. This is such a relief, and I would like to thank the Ribbono Shel Olam for bringing me to this point. I hope to get siyata dishmaya from my new kadosh environment in conquering this yetzer hara. College is a real killer.

=====

Re: Wish me mazal tov on graduating from college

Posted by aryehthor - 17 Dec 2010 03:30

---

I have decided that, while in yeshiva in Jerusalem, I am going to find SA meetings to go to regularly. In the last few weeks, I've seen that this monster has not diminished as a result of my efforts. I am just as vulnerable as ever when feeling lonely and bored. My alienation from people has reached new heights and my desire to act out in ever more extreme ways has continued with it. I NEED to connect with other addicts in person and tell my story and be at meetings. Otherwise, yeshiva or not, I'm going down the drain.

=====

Re: Wish me mazal tov on graduating from college

Posted by desperate_teddybear - 17 Dec 2010 03:37

---

aryehthor wrote on 17 Dec 2010 03:30:

I have decided that, while in yeshiva in Jerusalem, I am going to find SA meetings to go to regularly. In the last few weeks, I've seen that this monster has not diminished as a result of my efforts. I am just as vulnerable as ever when feeling lonely and bored. My alienation from people has reached new heights and my desire to act out in ever more extreme ways has continued with it. I NEED to connect with other addicts in person and tell my story and be at meetings. Otherwise, yeshiva or not, I'm going down the drain.

wow thats such a good idea esp. cuz there`s for sure jewish meetings there!

=====
=====

Re: Wish me mazal tov on graduating from college

Posted by silentbattle - 17 Dec 2010 07:42

---

That sounds like a good policy. Once again, I urge you to give yourself a start on sobriety before you go to eretz yisroel - I think that will be helpful to you in a number of ways.

=====
=====