

Where I'm at

Posted by jerusalemsexaddict - 16 Jul 2009 19:45

To whom it may concern,

My name is Uri. I live in the jerusalem area and i am a sex and love addict. This took me a long time to come to terms with, to say the least. But that we'll get to in a second.

I am finishing now my third year in beis medrash. While i have had success in my learning b'h, i have a source of shame and anguish that has caused me great depression on a constant basis. I lived (live really) two lives; my yeshiva/religious life which is the source of much admiration and pride from my parents and rebbeim. And then there is my "secret life", where I spend time ranging from 10 minutes a day to almost full off days fantasizing and worse acting out of all sorts. I feel like the world's biggest hypocrite. It bothers me even more cause i find sincerity and honesty of the utmost importance, and i have to stand and watch myself trample all over these traits. After several years of therapy i have recently come to the realization that basically all of my "major" issues have come from this place. I have major issues in getting close to people and keeping friends once i feel that they know me too well. i have a hard time sitting by myself due to my uncomfortability of sitting with a unsatiable sex addict (however ironic that might sound). The need creeps up all too often, followed by a crazy need to satisfy it. There are several paths to this: porn, masturbation, contact with a sexual girl, and, strangely enough, eating out at restaurants, but that we'll get to a diff time. Anyway, there is one main girl, as there always is. we have had the weirdest on and off relationship, to say the least. the jealousy and overprotection i had with her is still a shock to me even. anyway im tired so i shall continue this

Chevra,

I am taking a break from the forum.

It might be for a few days.

It might be for a week,a month,or 2 months.

Im doing this because I have become addicted to the forum. While this is better than some other addictions, I am not so happy with it. I want to try actually living life, and leave this virtual world, as beautiful and as secure as it might be.

I have no hard feelings for anybody.

Quite to the contrary, GYE saved my life, without a doubt.

I have found love and security for the first time in my life.

In the safety zone of that security, I have found a part of myself that I never knew existed.

The appreciation I have for Guard and the rest cannot be put into simple words.

I will not be signing on anymore, so PM'ing me will be futile.

I will still be periodically checking my email, so feel free to email me if you'd like.

All the best, GYE,

Uri

I removed this line, Uri:

Im doing this because:

1)I do not like the direction the forum has taken. I am lacking the feeling of complete freedom of expression which has been so beneficial to me.

I removed it because I don't think you should be free to express that.

Does anyone know what Uri's talking about (other than spelling mistakes)?

Anyway, we wish you luck little bird... Go out there and flap your wings. Take to flight. Feel the air flowing around you. Enjoy life.

(And if you ever need some yummy fresh worms, come back to the nest. We'll always be here for you).

i gotta admit, that it has annoyed me in the past when my words gets watered down through editing...i think he's feeling the same way...i mean, i understand this is a private forum and its kosher and all that but a little bit of the first amendment aint that bad....ive pmed kedusha about this problem before...whatever, guard, youve got a balancing act here to maintain, i get that....

~~Uri. I bless you to see better success in breaking free of SA than GYE~~

Most of the changes are spelling and grammar corrections, which I assume no one minds.

Regarding other types of edits, the GYE Forum rules try to strike a balance between freedom of speech (see first sentence of rule #1), adherence to Halacha and decency, and not distracting from GYE's mission. Complete freedom of expression may be good for the individual, but detrimental for the forum as a whole.

Uri, we wish you Beracha v'Hatzlacha!

I hate to do this, but most English language authorities concur that a comma before a grammatical conjunction (Such as in your sentence above) is redundant. Please try to avoid this in future posts.

Uri

Take the break you need

but please record your meetings with your therapist because it's great benefit for us and we gain alot from it.

and then post it here when you have a chance and for me personally it would be helpful do describe that emptiness, and the subsequent comfort and security that fills that space.

and I'm being truthful when I say that it is not mere curiosity that has me ask this of you
