

Where I'm at

Posted by jerusalemsexaddict - 16 Jul 2009 19:45

To whom it may concern,

My name is Uri. I live in the jerusalem area and i am a sex and love addict. This took me a long time to come to terms with, to say the least. But that we'll get to in a second.

I am finishing now my third year in beis medrash. While i have had success in my learning b'h, i have a source of shame and anguish that has caused me great depression on a constant basis. I lived (live really) two lives; my yeshiva/religious life which is the source of much admiration and pride from my parents and rebbeim. And then there is my "secret life", where I spend time ranging from 10 minutes a day to almost full off days fantasizing and worse acting out of all sorts. I feel like the world's biggest hypocrite. It bothers me even more cause i find sincerity and honesty of the utmost importance, and i have to stand and watch myself trample all over these traits. After several years of therapy i have recently come to the realization that basically all of my "major" issues have come from this place. I have major issues in getting close to people and keeping friends once i feel that they know me too well. i have a hard time sitting by myself due to my uncomfortability of sitting with a unsatiable sex addict (however ironic that might sound). The need creeps up all too often, followed by a crazy need to satisfy it. There are several paths to this: porn, masturbation, contact with a sexual girl, and, strangely enough, eating out at restaurants, but that we'll get to a diff time. Anyway, there is one main girl, as there always is. we have had the weirdest on and off relationship, to say the least. the jealousy and overprotection i had with her is still a shock to me even. anyway im tired so i shall continue this

There you go, Kanesher!

You just qualified for the "Dov" award for being rigorously honest with yourself.

At least, I think you qualified.

- Uri , Kol HaKavod. And yes, I wish I had the guts to join those meetings - I don't Dov, does this type of honesty count?

:D

PS: happily, I've got a good excuse. Its called the Atlantic.

And I'm a lousy swimmer.

I saw rav shlachter last night.

He is a major tzaddik.

He told me that if I bring my father with me next time, hell see us for free!

People, i have been through my share of psychologists and this guy is something else.

Uri, you never cease to amaze me.

I still find it hard to believe that the Uri who joined 4 1/2 months ago, and the Uri of today, are one and the same.

Uri, the thing that helps me the most about you is that you don't seem to even consider that you are done. You really want to grow, not just "to exist". And that's not so common....Chazal say Avraham Avinu was like a horse running across a muddy pond: he knew that should he stop, he'd just get stuck and be worse off. And he really had Hashem as his very Best Friend in a big, nasty and hostile world, and made it his job to let everyone else know they could have Him, too. Just like you do here.

LOL So true

Hey Uri i read the past few pages of your thread. I really feel for you bro. Just wanted to let you know you can always stop over im my place if you need to. its not big but it can be a break for you. We can get to know eachother. Im sure we can both gain from that. So whatever get back at me with your thoughts.

Hey , shrinks gotta eat too! (somehow I'm paying about $800/month for therapy on a zero budget. Don't know how long it's going to be able to go on. Lot's of eating of there, but chommah needs to be payed for; they're not obligated to work for free - but R' Shraga is real real leshama)
