

im a failure...

Posted by s4nh - 20 Jan 2011 17:11

so the other day I fell....

I tried doing the 90 day thing and lasted 15 days!

and then it all went down the drain when I found myself alone...bored...and careless....

I felt this voice telling me it was ok because I held back for so long that this once wont hurt....

well it did!

im very upset...

i need this to go away....just..all of it...away

you may have fallen or failed but you are not a failure!

Viyirayu oisanu hamitzrim

The mitzrim convinced us that we are bad

Its a teefer yesod

A yeed is good. No matter what. Even if he acts bad he IS b'etzem good try to see where things went wrong and learn what you can do to try to prevent it recurring

maybe try a new approach, learn about the 12 Steps, see if that is an option for you, there are phone groups that you can join, reach out to a friend or mentor you trust and most of all speak to Hashem, tell Him what's going on and turn to Him

WRONG, WRONG, WRONG...

Your fifteen days are written up in golden letters in Hashem's Wall of Honor.

well it did!

That's the same voice which tells you that your 15 clean days "all went down the drain", and the same voice that tells you to call your thread "im a failure..." and not "I'm a success story in the making...".

And i think you know whose voice that is...

The YH

when I found myself alone...bored...and careless....

I think that we're on to something here...

im very upset...

i need this to go away....just..all of it...away

Feeling your pain,

Elazar ben Durdayah

Now let's get up from that misery... because that also comes from the same one who got you into this situation in the first place.

Don't give your worst enemy his favorite gift.

Save your regrets for a later date, do something NOW to will lift your spirits. G-d loves you.

Learn from this experience, and KEEP ON TRUCKING!!!

Every second that we stay clean, we get close to hashem, we get access to kedusha and spirituality on an unimaginable level.

Every second.

You had 15 days - that's 1,296,000 seconds!

Now, if you want to know what we do when we fall, we...get. up. And move forward. And we learn from what happened so that we gained from the experience.

I AGREE with YOU and DISAGREE with everyone else.

Listen to your heart....

You SHOULD be very upset.

You SHOULD be depressed.

It aint goin away so fast, and you're stuck in the mud.

signed,

your loyal yetzer hora.

Hey, World!

If you've got an inside connection with the YH (you seem to be his ghost writer), maybe ask him to leave me alone?

Thanks,

EBD

Moiradig!!!

The only YH I have connections with is Yosef Hatzadik.

I think we all have EXPERIENCE with the Yetzer Horah.

Feelings of failure and depression are the name of his game.

Well said, that's been (an still is) my experience as well

But then again, you have a WORLD of experience...

We all know the famous Chazal that says "Sheva Yipol Tzadik, Vekom". Note the term Tzadik!!! If even a Tzadik falls 7 times, how much more can we expect to fall as well?! But the truth is that each time we get up again, we are bringing ourselves to the place where "Ain Tzadikim gemurim yecholim laamod"!!

When we get closer to Hashem and go 15 days, nobody can take that away from us!! As long as your commitment at the beginning of the 15 days was sincere, so you were a Baal Teshuva Gamur for 15 days!! There is an article that I'd like you to read when you can. This is great for all of us suffering by the way. It puts the whole struggle with the Yetzer Hara in perspective so we Don't get too down when we fall. Let me know if it helps at all.

Hatzlacha Raba and remember - Yiush has the first and last letter of YH = Yetzer Hara!!!

Yetzer Horah & Yosef Hatzadik share initials.

it also stands for Yesterday is History, so move forward without looking back - onwards and upwards!
