

home alone - DANGER!!!

Posted by 5770 - 26 Jan 2011 00:48

Today I was home alone ... online... studying ... working

I start THINKING about it ... (but I didn't do anything)

Now everyone's back home. Zero opportunity :-) - - - BUT I AM STILL THINKING ABOUT IT!!!

I've been fine for weeks ... and now.... it's like I have this infection!!

So I am writing to you, my brothers, to let you know this is what I am doing right now.

I will not let myself and my family down!!!!

;D

Now get up away from the computer and talk to someone in your family or pick up a sefer, and Good going!

Hey 5770,

When you're alone and feel tempted to act out, remember that you'll be destroying yourself and taking yourself further away from what we all really want in life.

My advice is go to the gym and work off all the urges in a healthy way. You'll actually spend less time working out than you could have indulging in porn and then feeling completely rough after you've fallen.

Hope that helps and have a great weekend,

DL
