HELP-SOS Posted by pinokio - 27 Jan 2011 17:35

Shabbos is coming. This holy day unfortunately always throws me into depression. don't have time now to explain why, but point is its starting to set in my little brain right now.

I need support from any hands on deck at GYE. Im working on the inyun and am not gonna fix it overnight, but i just need a little friendship to keep me till motzai shabbos. Not embarrassed to say, and Im anyways gonna decide now that i wont let my feelings get out of control, hashems with me, and everything will be alright. ill be besimcha as best as i can. this isnt gonna be some amazing profound 100page thread, its just right now i need a little, yeah, you know already.

Ive gotta log off but will check later.

Help.

So a bat walks into a bar and says "you got any manners!"

and so the bartender says "excuse me? what are u talking about?"

the bat says back "_____

YOU DECIDE!

reb tzadik90,

i love your writing style, it's so colorful and flamboyant and makes me smile (like this: :D)

and it's so good to hear that you are tackling issues in your life, especially the tricky ones like the anger that sometimes pops up and we just tell him to go back to sleep and instead of going to sleep he climbs into the closet and bides his time...

balancing the kabala/madreigos/malachim-catching with sanity is quite the challenge. Rav Hutner said that there are many people who are what you would call a "bar daas" and many people who are "yirei shomayim", but to find a person who is both is hard. IIRC, in the hakdama to Innerspace by Rabbi Aryeh Kaplan, Rabbi Sutton says that the mark of a true mekubal/talmid chochom is that they have simcha shining out of their face, mesamchei lev. so if the kabala is making me into a nail-biting paranoid freak then i need a tune-up. i identify with the sometimes tough job of striking the correct balance and not going too far in the spiritual dept or in the chilling out dept.

I think Rav Chaim Vital writes that the primary factor determining a person's true level of tikkun hamidos is reflected in how he treats his wife, so sometimes the mekubalim need to learn the yichudim and kavanos of mint tea, sponga and diapers. this is something which shows me how to measure progress, if the growth is real and not phony baloney then my immediate family will benefit and realize it.

there is a gevaldig letter from Rebbe Mendel Vitebsker zy'a printed in the new editions of Pri Ha'aretz where he writes how a person needs to be 'sameiach be'chelko' in ruchniyos as well, be happy that you learned for minutes, that you said Modeh Ani, that you put on tefilin, etc. Bl'n i hope to post the whole letter. (The Heichal Habracha quotes the letter as well in his perush on chumash).

tovarish, taaseh chaim ve'telech mechayil el chuyil!

zemmmmmmmmmmmmmmmmsssssssssssss

p.s. if i send you a photo of me and my health insurance info can you get a 'metzach scan' for me?

Need?

Re: HELP-SOS Posted by pinokio - 10 Mar 2011 15:22

need is deen backwards

it can also be arranged to say ened

or dene

or eend

or dnee

there are four letters

do four factorial formula, =24 permutations, like e or e or n or d or dn or de or en or ee or dne or dee or nee

REBBE WHAT DID YOU MEAN BY NEED

although i think i know what your'e gonna say

Re: HELP-SOS Posted by pinokio - 10 Mar 2011 15:29

SO THESE TWO guys walk into a bar, and are wearing yellow cowboy hats.

so the bardstender says to them "feeling a little drowsy today gentlemen?"

says cowboy number one to cowboy number two "how did he know!"

says cowboy two back to cowboy one "_____"

YOU DECIDE!

im still clean...didnt get any work done, but maybe soon this psychotic craving for marmosette peanut butter will pass....

whats imp. is that im having fun being weird and im staying clean by doing so!

say shalom, his name is Yekusiel Zundel Gerstenkartuffel and he likes Reeses Puffs

Re: HELP-SOS Posted by pinokio - 10 Mar 2011 16:35

Calvin says to moe "your simian countenance denotes a culture rich in species diversity". He winds up with his face in the mud of course.

Which, btw im clean for four hours since dying for marmosette giraffe americana peanut butter, reminds me of an insightful story:

early this week, before i got off the bus by bar ilan i saw something moving on the floor. I bent closer and saw it was an overturned ladybug. Being the 6'5 gentle teddybear that i am (im really only 5'5) i picked it up and gave it a free piggyback ride on my finger.

I was waiting to find for it a safe, comfy place for my little friend to call home, before i'd put her down.

At the same time, i was hastily running through traffic and red lights to catch my other bus. In my haste, i put down ms. ladybug on the gaurdrail in the middle of the massive intersection.

As i got near my next bus stop, i realized "hey-i just put a miniscule and defenseless ladybug on top of a metal pole between a busy street where over 20,000 cars pass a day.

pass the psychiatrist please
