

How do i get a SA group started in my area?

Posted by helpme! - 13 Feb 2012 16:09

There is no SA in my area and, thats that i want to make one. so i have a few questions...

How do i get a SA group started in my area?

Does SA provide a therapist, does it cost money, or can the group go through the 12 steps without an expert?

How does one go about finding who in the area has the problem?

I am interested in going through on the phone about making a SA conference here, so could anyone in Israel who has experience with SA, and how it works, willing to speak on the phone, please PM me so we can speak

How do i get a SA group started in my area? you need another member and you are ready to start

Does SA provide a therapist, does it cost money, or can the group go through the 12 steps without an expert? no therapist provided (there are sponsors), no cost (7th tradition), no expert needed to do it

How does one go about finding who in the area has the problem? try the closest meeting, you might be suprised to find a community member, or the join the phone meetings
