

Tishrei Lessons

Posted by ZemirosShabbos - 05 Oct 2011 17:07

If you love someone you should give them a new chance and wipe their slate clean

a relationship needs time wherein it is your sole focus relationships need talk talk talk one day you eat lots, next day none, all for the same One powertools, honey, bee traps and machzorim, each thing in it's correct time

=====

Re: Tishrei Lessons

Posted by Yosef Hatzadik - 05 Oct 2011 17:13

Yosef Hatzadik wrote on 16 Sep 2010 18:04:

Yom Kippur:

The Holy Kohen Godol, while doing the Holy Avodah, in the Holy Beis Hamikdash, in the Holy day of Yom Kippur needed to immerse in the mikve 5 times and purify himself with the kiyor 10 times!

Even the holiest of men must constantly work on becoming purer & purer!

~~~~~

The Holy Kohen Godol, in the Holy Beis Hamikdash, in the Holy day of Yom Kippur needed to take steps [bordering on the extreme!] to stay tahor! (i.e. care in what he ate, staying wake all night, etc.)

One of the miracles that are enumerated as happening in the Beis Hamikdash is that Kohen Godol never experienced an impurity. >Even after taking ALL THOSE PRECAUTIONS it is still considered a miracle from Hashem to stay clean & Kodosh!

~~~~~

The Holy Kohen Godol, in the Holy Beis Hamikdash, in the Holy day of Yom Kippur needed to take steps [bordering on the extreme!] to stay tahor! (i.e. care in what he ate, staying wake all night, etc.)

Yetzer Horah maniach umos haolam umisgareh beson'eihem shel Yisroel - The Yetzer Horah leaves the gentiles & attacks the Jewish People!U'betalmidei chachamim yoseir mekulam - and in Talmudei Chachamim more than other Jews. (Mesechta Sukkah)

The Yetzer Horah has 'good taste'. He seeks only the 'prime cuts'! When we see that he is trying so hard to get us caught in his web, we should take that as a major complement!

=====

=====

Posted by Shteeble - 05 Oct 2011 18:01

muffin is gematriah teshuva.

(if it's off, just add some sprinkles.)

=====

=====

Posted by ZemirosShabbos - 06 Oct 2011 18:49

On Yom Kippur we 'come clean' to the RBSO. We spell out what we did, what we messed up, the things we have wrong perspectives on and so on.

One might think that doing so would cause a distance and a rift between us and the RBSO. After all we just read a litany of dirty laundry we are carrying around.

Just the opposite.

??? ?????? ?': ????? ?????? ????? ?????? ????? ?????? ?????? ?? ??? ????? ?????? ?????? ?????
???,

???? ????? - ?? ??? ?????, ????? ????? ??? - ?? ????? ??? ?????, ????? ????? ??????? -?????
 ??,?"?

????? ??": ?? ??? ???? - ??? ????????, ?????? ?? ????? ????????

Yom Kippur is a chasuna (keveyachol), between us and the RBSO.

He wants us to come forward, be honest, admit and recognize where we are and what we did. And move on, try to live better, improve ourselves by reaching out for His help and for our chaverim's help. Then He wipes the slate clean and we dance with happiness (Sukkos) for seven days (Sheva brachos?)

Yehi ratzon that we all be zocheh to this

=====
=====

Re: Tishrei Lessons

Posted by gibbor120 - 06 Oct 2011 18:56

=====
=====

Re: Tishrei Lessons

Posted by ZemirosShabbos - 11 Oct 2011 17:40

for days we run around, shopping, hammering, staple-gunning, checking, cable tie-ing, drilling, cooking, sawing, sanding, painting...

in order to SIT in the sukkah

=====
=====

Re: Tishrei Lessons

Posted by tehlimzugger - 12 Oct 2011 02:08

gibbor120 wrote on 06 Oct 2011 18:56:

.

=====

I need to go shine my dancing shoes... and find my crocks

that's CROCS "crocks" r a cheap imitation >