

Daf Yomi Questions and AnswersPosted by ur-a-jew - 03 Aug 2012 14:18

We came, we were inspired and now we need to take action. As Reb Scheiner said. It's not simply about learning the daf, its instilling within ourselves ahavas hatorah. One who has an ahavah for Torah doesn't need to pursue tayvos olam hazeh, he is too busy with olam habah. He won't waste his time with idle things, after all he has a lover: the Torah. So if you feel the urge come spend your time delving in the amkus of Torah rather than lehavdil the depths of depravity. My goal is to post a question or several a day on the daily daf and the oilam can post answers. Remember aiyen ponim l'torah so there can be more than one answer to a question.

1. ?????? - Why does Torah Shbaal Peh start with a "mem"?

2. In response to the questions ??? ????? ??? ?????? ?????? ??? ??? ??? ?????? ?????? ?????? ?????? the gemara gives two answers. Rashi says the second answer ??? ?????? ?????? ?????? ?????? is only responding to the gemaras second question. Is there a way to learn that in fact the gemara is answering both questions?

3. The Gemara explains that the reason why the mishna used the time indicator for Zman Krias Shema as ????? ?????? ?????? ?????? ?????? to teach us an additional din that Kohanim that became tomiai can eat terumah from evening and they don't have to wait until they bring a korban ??? ?????? ?? ?????? ?? ?????? The gemara brings a proof to this from the possuk of ??? ?????? If you look at that possuk however it is talking about tumah that doesn't require a korban. ?????, ???-???-???, ?? ???, ???-??? ?????? ?????-???. ? ??-??? ??? ???, ???-??? ??? ?????-??; ?? ????? ??? ?????-??, ??? ??????. ? ??? ??? ???-??, ?????? ??-????; ??? ????? ??-??????, ?? ??-??? ??????. ? ??? ?????, ?????; ????? ????? ??-??????, ?? ????? ????

Since tomorrow is Shabbos posting today for tomorrow's daf.

1. ??? ????? ?????????? ?????? ?? ????? ?????? ?? ????? The Gemara uses the term destruction with respect to ??? and burning with respect to the heichal. The possuk ????? ? ??? ?

when describing the churban suggests that the "bayis" was burned ????? ??-???-? Moreover, the gemara in Taanis ?? ??,? uses the term destruction with respect to the heichal ????? ????? ?????????????? ????? ?? ?????? (although it also uses the term burning earlier with respect to the heichal "????? ?? ????? ?? ????? " and destruction with respect to the bayis "????? ??? ?????"). What is the difference between the "bayis" and the "heichal" and which was burned and which destroyed?

2. The gemara says ??? ??? ??? ??? ??? ?????? ?? ??? ??? ?????? ????? ??? ??? ?????? ?? ?? ??? ??? ??? ?? ?????? ?? ?????? ?????? ?????? ?????? ?????? ??? ?? ?? Rashi based on a possuk in Mishlei explains the reason that Divrei Torah is ossur ????? ?????? ????? ??? ?????? ?????? ??? ?????? ??? ?????? But the gemara on :?"? in Niddah says ??' ?????? ?????? ??"?? ?????? ??? ?????? ?????? ?????? ?????? ??? ?????? ?????? ?????? so what does rashi mean when he says ????? ?????? ?????? ??? ?

on daf beis amud bais, the gemara says that in Eretz Yisrael (Maarava) they did not hear what Rav Shila said about the diyuk of tahar vs. veyit-har and they questioned the meaning of "uba hashemesh vetahar", whether it means the sun coming up or going down.

the reason they were satisfied that it refers to the sun going down was because the wording of a beraisa is clearly indicative that the correct meaning is that the sun goes down.

how can we interpret a posuk based on a beraisa? isn't that like putting the cart before the horse?

Interpreting a Possuk based on a Chazal, is analogous to to putting a car's engine in the hood up front, not putting a horse in front of the cart....

1. I was thinking that perhaps Torah ShBaal Peh starts with a mem to combine with the bays of breishas in order to allude to the possuk ????? ???. The Torah is telling us you should speak ??
that is Torah Sbksav and Torah Shbaal Peh

2. The ????? ?????? explains al pi drush that the tanna learned from ?????? ?? ???? that just like the Torah starts with breishas shomyim v'oetz even though it didn't explain the creation of aish though he never explained from where we know the chiyuv to say krias shema.

While this question is indeed a good one, ????? ??? ?????, ????? ????? ??????. I would like to point out something here (in the "the censored text" section), where it seems that the girsat here aren't all that clear to begin with.

The simple difference between the "bayis" and the "heichal" is; The Bayit refers to the Beit HaMikdash as a whole, including the Azarot, while the Heichal refers to the building housing the Kodesh and Kodesh HaKadashim only.

The simple difference between the "bayis" and the "heichal" is; The Bayit refers to the Beit HaMikdash as a whole, including the Azarot, while the Heichal refers to the building housing the Kodesh and Kodesh HaKadashim only.

1. Even the censored version of ??? ? ???? ? ? ???? ???? ? ? ???? ???? ???? ????

uses the same phraseology with respect to the heichal and the bayis.

2. I don't think that the "heichal" includes the kodesh hakodshim, see for example here. In light of that perhaps when the gemara uses the phrase "???? " it refers to the Kodesh Hakodshim which is sometimes referred to as ??? ???? ???? this still does not answer the contradiction (although I'm wondering whether we could answer that one is referring to mikdash rishon and the other mikdash sheini, since the possuk in Melachim is describing bayis rishon, whereas ????????? was in bayis sheini).

The Bayis Rishon Sheini thing has potential.

Unrelated but it's on TornosRuphus:

Some of you may have noticed that I'm learning Avodah Zarah, the gemorah on daf 20a [referenced by Reb MT [url=http://www.guardyoureyes.org/forum/index.php?topic=5273.msg139138#msg139138]here[/url]] says that one is prohibited from giving "chen" to Aku"m, in other words one should not glorify Aku"m. the gemorah then relates that Rabbi Akiva once saw the wife of TornosRuphus, he spit, laughed and cried. He spit because she came from a blemished droplet, laughed because he saw that eventually he will marry her, and cried for her beauty* that will eventually waste away in the earth [We are men of nature we are made from the earth, at the end of my eighty I'll return to the dirt^[sup]Matisyahu^[sup]].

The gemorah in Nedarim 50b [right on top] mentions this woman, and Rashi explains:

A nobleman whose name was Ruphus who would constantly pester Rabi Akiva through words of Torah, Rabi Akiva would always defeat him though and each time the nobleman would be shamed. He came [home] and told his wife, she said I'll butter him up and seduce him, because she was extremely beautiful. So she came to him and uncovered her legs. Rabi Akiva spit, laughed and cried. So she said to him, why did you do these things? He replied, I spit because you come from a blemished droplet, and I cried because your beauty will eventually waste away in the earth. He wouldn't tell her why he laughed, until she persisted and he admitted that he sees that she will marry him eventually. She asked him, is it still possible for me to become a mensch [although I doubt she used that term]? He said yes. She went and converted; after her husband died she married Rabi Akiva and brought him great riches.

Tosafos says almost the same thing, however according to Tosafos, she didn't "come to him and uncover her legs" but "got dressed up and went before Rabi Akiva" [this is an important difference, because as mentioned, Reb MT references the second part of this Gemorah in Avodah Zarah, where the Gemorah asks, how was Rabi Akiva permitted to look at her? And the gemorah answers that he caught a glimpse when he turned a corner. Accordingly, coming "before him" would be more accurate than "going to him"]. Another difference in Tosafos, that he didn't break down and admit why he was laughing, which lets us understand how come she was permitted to convert [whereas according to Rashi she "went" and converted, Rabi Akiva wouldn't do it for her]. Another difference "She left [we can take this to mean, she left her husband], converted, and brought him a lot of money and was married to him". The gemorah in Kiddushin daph 7a says that while usually the husband has to pay the wife and that constitutes the marriage "Kiddushin", if the husband is greatly respected then the wife can pay him, and that constitutes the marriage, according to Tosafos, perhaps that's what the money was all about.

And finally, the Gemorah in Nedarim 50a relates that Rabi Akiva, right after his marriage [while he was still a bigger Am HaAretz than any one of us here at GYE] lived in great poverty and promised his wife that if only he had the money, he would get her a "Jerusalem of Gold"! The gemorah in Shabbos 59a-b relates that Rabi Akiva actually ended up getting a "Jerusalem of Gold" for his wife. The sefer Shivim Temarim [end of siman 42] asks that according to halacha, Rabi Akiva was not obligated to fulfill the "promise" that a dreaming Am HaAretz had made years before, taking into account that only special women wore "Cities of Gold" [see Shabbos], and they were an impoverished couple with no money, status, or anything, the promise was so absurd at the time, that it was not at all binding, if so, why did Rabi Akiva come through and get the "Jerusalem of Gold" for his wife?

According to the next page in Nedarim, that Rabi Akiva married another woman [and note that Rashi says she waited for HER husband to die, not for Rabi Akiva's wife], and she brought him lots of cash, we can understand that Rachel, the first wife, may have felt that Rabi Akiva will now ignore her and spend all his time with the new pretty, rich wife. To show that he still loved her, he used some of his newfound cash, and got her a gift, that is still famous today!

* It is interesting to note, that at the end of Makkos, upon seeing the destruction of the temple

[see, it IS related] the sages cried while Reb Akiva laughed. When asked about it he replied that he laughed because he foresaw the eventual Nechama.

Upon learning this Gemara though, we may ask, if he was capable of oth, laughing and crying, why didn't he at least first cry for the churban and then laugh for the nechama.

We can answer in two ways. A. the ecstasy of the geulah was so real to him, that it seemed a total waste to cry for the churban when the nechama is so close at hand, and so exciting! B. Like Reb Dov said over here, the churban is really not a problem when taken into context that it's paving the way for geulah [see also what I wrote [url=http://www.guardyoureyes.org/forum/index.php?topic=4337.msg142878#msg142878]here[/url]].

the gemara brings the passuk of ???? ??? ?????

and learns from it that one should fight his yetzer and if that doesnt help he should be osek batorah and if that doesnt help he should think about yom hamisa.

how does this work out with the gemarah kiddushin borosi yetzer harah borosi torah tavlin how is there a step after learning if learning is the tavlin for the yetzer harah why should something else work and why didnt learning help?
