

Looking for Source

Posted by the.guard - 21 Jun 2009 13:32

Rabbi Twerski wrote me today that the chassidic works are replete with "bris halashon mechuvan negged bris hamaor" and that shemiras halashon leads to shemiras habris.

Does anyone have a source for this?

Additionaly, I was once flipping through the shla hakadish, and found a reffrence to kids going off the derech. He says that the roots of that trend, where implanted by the goyishe cleaning lady who sang giyis lulabies to the child. The koach of Music, is so powerfull, that in addition to having the capability or arousing a person to ruchnius, kindiling the courage of old-time soldiers to march to their death in battle (b4 the colonials developred gorilla warfare), and instilling within a person feelings of simcha and sorrow, apprehension and fear.....in addition to all this. It can be pogeim his neshama for years to come. Heshem Yerachaim alainu, VyotziAinu MeaFeila Leorah Umishibud legiulah....Venomar Lefanav SHIR CHADASH.

AS YASHIR....

In the Sefer Matnas Chayim from Rav Matisyahu Salamon Shlit"a in the name of the Alshich Hakodosh:

We find at Acheshveirosh's party that he tried to entice Klal Yisroel with all the different senses, Taste, Sight (He quotes a Midrash that there were pritzus'dige waitresses for the men and vice-versa.), Touch (all those comfortable silky couches...), and Smell (fragrances). There was NO music because music can be used for whatever the LISTENER chooses. Even if they would have played their songs, the jews could still use it to be nisorer to teshuvah.

Just curious: I read that sefer many years ago and it didn't help me. Quite the contrary.....

Did it help you? ...and if it did, in what way(s)? Please do not answer if it'd be uncomfortable at all!

i'm Sooo LOST !!!

I read through the table of contents in my RECOVERY FOR DUMMIES a second time and I cannot find any of this stuff.

What chapter is everyone reading from?

Did I order the wrong version?

ok - I turned around several times...got pretty dizzy...

i am laying here splattered on the floor, the stars are spinning around my head, does that count?

oh wait a minute... I think i am starting to get it...

you wanted the room to spin around... like VERTIGO, right?

but we are discussing the disease of the EGO - called:

INVERT-EGO...but the difference is this is a spiritual inversion, where the ego thinks it is in control...

I think I am going to pass out now from all the spinning...but I think I am getting it.

still lost - but starting to get it.

Parshas Vayigash:

Eineichem ro'os..... ki pi hamedaber aleichem

- b'loshon hakodesh (Rashi)

What the eyes see & what they don't see etc. is because the mouth speaks in a holy style!

(I might have seen this somewhere else. Anybody ever saw this vort in a sefer? Please respond via PM)
