

Divrei Torah collected by Zemiros

Posted by ZemirosShabbos - 13 Dec 2010 19:32

a place to put some nice divrei torah i've come across. i hope others can benefit from them as i have.

=====

Re: Divrei Torah collected by Zemiros

Posted by ZemirosShabbos - 12 Jun 2012 23:49

Parshas Balak

???? ?????

The Midrash gives a mashal to a hunter who was pursuing a bird and the bird flew off and landed on a statue of the king. if he shoots an arrow it may damage the statue. if he throws a stone he would be guilty of stoning an image of the king and forfeit his life.

So to, Bilaam cursed Amalek and was trying to curse Yisro. Yisro went and joined Klal Yisrael, and thereby escaped Bilaam's clutches.

Question is how did the fact that Yisro joined klal yisrael similar to the bird sitting on the king's statue? Yisro did not merely sit in a different spot, he changed his entire lifestyle. The bird merely sat on a statue.

Must be that as soon as Yisro decided that he is joining klal yisrael he was considered to be 'on the King's statue' and could not be harmed, even though the process of giyur was far from complete.

Similarly, someone who sincerely accepts upon himself to do teshuva, is considered as being bound to the King and is under his protection.

Sefer Bad Kodesh from Rav Boruch Dov Povarsky shlita

=====

Re: Divrei Torah collected by Zemiros
Posted by ZemirosShabbos - 03 Jul 2012 04:48

We find that the yidden complained about the monn twice, once at the beggining of the 40 years in the desert (bilti el hamonn eineinu) and once at the very end (venafshenu katzta balechem haklokeil).

Why did they complain only at these two instances?

the generation that left mitzrayim were accustomed to eating regular food and when they were put on a monn-diet they complained that it did not satisfy them because it did not look like food, even though it tasted like food it was missing the visual satisfaction (bilti el hamonn eineinu).

The generation who grew up in the desert never ate regular food and had no reason to complain. The generation at the end of the 40 years had to travel past the land of Edom and saw people eating regular food and therefore they complained as well.

Chasam Sofer

this shows the importance of guarding ones eyes

=====

Re: Divrei Torah collected by Zemiros
Posted by cordnoy - 08 Sep 2014 03:51

The Brisker Maggid writes in Machazeh Einayim that there can be people who are immune from

=====

=====

???? ???? ????...

ZemirosShabbos wrote:

??????? ???? ???? ????

???? ??? ?????? ?????? ?? ??????"? ??????? ?????? - ????????? ??????"?

bardichev wrote on 14 Jan 2011 07:13:

Beshalach-Shabbos SHIRA tuf shin ayin alef

KEEP ON TRUCKING

By:bardichev

This dvar Torah is dedicated to my good chver Zemirosh Shabbos

May he see bracha vihatzlacha in all his endeavors

The place:Somewhere near Egypt

The time:chol hamoed

Pesach

The yidden are trapped in the deset

The Egyptian Cavalry all of it and all their legions. The entire Egyptian army are bearing down on the Jews

The jews are between a rock and a hard place

The only place they can go is forward

Slight issue homo-sapians are not amphibians.

What is there to do

No retreat

No where to turn

So the Jews do what Jews always do they pray!

Gevaldiggggg??

Nisht!

Hashem says why are you screaming

??

Speak to the people and tell them to get moving

YAYISOO-ee (vayisa-uu)

KEEP ON TRUCKING!!

Fregt bards

What was wrong with prayer?

There is a huge lesson here

Huge

When facing a personal challenge

We can't say

I tried

I cried

I prayed

No no no

Do something positive

Drive forward

Even if it means jumping into the sea

Vayisa-uu!!

Too often I see here on the forum. People are haunted by their own demons

Leave them behind you!! Ayyy they are chasing you?! Just keep on trucking!

Of course tefilla!but like Hashem says tefilla plus action

Like the Rupshotzers kugel

The rupshizer roov reb naftali horovitz talmid of the (chozeh)Lubliner

His rebbetzin was a bit stingy but a big tzaddekes

So she made a small kugel one potato. A small onion. She put it in the oven. Took out her tehillim and began to daven that the kugel should "gelung"

While she was davening. The rebbe. Grabbed a sack of potatoes some huge onions a dozen eggs. A jug of oil. Salt feffer ahhh

He added his rebbetzin bite size kugel to a huge kugel for all the chassidim

The rebbetzin finishes davening

Looks into the oven and beams as she says ,

Naftali I Look my tefilla worked!

The rebbe says "yes your tefilla along with my massim tovim"

Keep on trucking

With

All

The

Love

In

The

World

H&H

bardichev

Good Shabbos

=====

Re: Divrei Torah collected by Zemiros
Posted by cordnoy - 01 Jul 2015 20:55

ZemirosShabbos wrote:

Parshas Balak

???? ?????

The Midrash gives a mashal to a hunter who was pursuing a bird and the bird flew off and landed on a statue of the king. if he shoots an arrow it may damage the statue. if he throws a stone he would be guilty of stoning an image of the king and forfeit his life.

So to, Bilaam cursed Amalek and was trying to curse Yisro. Yisro went and joined Klal Yisrael, and thereby escaped Bilaam's clutches.

Question is how did the fact that Yisro joined klal yisrael similar to the bird sitting on the king's statue? Yisro did not merely sit in a different spot, he changed his entire lifestyle. The bird merely sat on a statue.

Must be that as soon as Yisro decided that he is joining klal yisrael he was considered to be 'on the King's statue' and could not be harmed, even though the process of giyur was far from complete.

Similarly, someone who sincerely accepts upon himself to do teshuva, is considered as being bound to the King and is under his protection.

Sefer Bad Kodesh from Rav Boruch Dov Povarsky shlita

Now, if we can only get Zemmy to post more often....especially his divrei torah, but even his food recipes would do.

=====