

Hello, I'm sorry

Posted by lo yichra - 03 Aug 2011 15:06

Hello everybody,

I'm already here in the forum for a few days.

& I'm trying to get chizuk from all the members here.

& i want to ask to forgive me why I didn't introduce my self because I'm very bad in English writing.

but I hope I will take out some good chizuk from this place.

& tank you everybody for supporting with posts.

& special thanks for the mara d'asro hadein the guard zol zein gezunt for his special work.god should bless you with bracha vhatzlach bchol masei yudchu.

It's easy Shteegecher:

I use a mirror.

Then I always smile. Hashem loves a failure like me so much....and besides, when I am honest with myself, I always admit that I would not actually trade myself with anybody, no matter how screwed up I am today - and I believe that's the 100% truth for most people (maybe every people).

And then I take Reb b's battle cry and keep on lorrying!

today i am not a failure maybe tomorrow i will deserve to be on the 90 day chart maybe at the 4th day.

don't kill me if not because its very hard for me.

don't laugh from me please.

Dov, are you serious, i'm Chosiddish, so, i will not look in the mirror, but, i'm at day 83. I'm a Failure ? Hoshem creates only failures ?

Reb Barditchov, my shwigger likes me, she will not ay i'm a failure.

i've heard Chasidim asking for a 'gezint' shtickle kigel...

so how can you say they are not looking for healthyness?

They find is in the kigel instead of the Mirror (Shpigeel), or they eat a shpiggel lar or some cold
