

New

Posted by jasonfrank - 03 Oct 2011 00:51

I live in West Texas which is also known as the bible belt, hence there are few outwardly jewish people outside of the two I know. I have struggled with this issue for many years now with occasional successes followed by disastrous repercussions. As I researched some literature relating to this area and judaism I was directed to this site and its a welcomed relief to find everyone already here. I have done 90 day workout programs in the past and know I can do the 90 chart on the site with a little encouragement from all the aspects of GYE.

=====
=====