All I have to say is that even though I am a lilies less than two weeks into my real recovery for the first time I love this website. I am basically on it all day, it has such great information and even though I am just a new comer I have to say that those who are hesitant stay strong and read the handbook slowly and carefully it really helps. Stay strong and we will do it together we are hashems warriors and we will stand strong to greet masiach bemheria byamenu! Amen!

Welcome, I'm glad you are finding your way around the website. When you feel like it, tell us a little about yourself, you'll see it makes a difference. Filters. Ah, did I mention filters???

Mamash love you!

We're all in this together.

You win, we win.
