

Looking for accountability partner

Posted by Time4Change - 26 Apr 2012 17:10

Shalom Chevra,

I posted in the 'Sponsors & Accountability Partners' but it seems that group is a bit dusty, so I thought I'd repost here.

I have been around here for a while - I'm a single Jew from JHB, South Africa - and I attend a weekly 12-step group here (among other things).

I am, however, looking for an accountability partner - someone in Israel or Europe (or any other time zone similiar to South Africa) - someone who I can speak to when I am struggling and feeling weak, someone to chat to at any time of the day, when I need to talk and get some chizuk. I AM ALSO WILLING TO OFFER THE SAME THING IN RETURN [Would be willing to offer the support even if you wouldn't be able to offer it to me as well, for whatever reason].

Please help!
