Hi. I'm Mefatfait Biyitzro. I changed my name to Charlie.

I've been around almost half a year, have grown tremendously, but still can't manage to stay sober. Lately I've been thinking that some added humility might be needed, I saw in 12&12 that humility is the yesod of all the 12 steps. How can I truly surrender my lust when I think that I am the "mefatfait beyitzro" of the century?

I want to work on listening and receiving advice more than giving over my wisdom, I'm a sick addict who desperately needs to get better.
